- I don't really understand the question. 2nd homes are fine where local people purchase them and long let them to locals. Holiday homes I'm sat on the fence.

Q10 Taking into account your responses to the question above, please say whether you would support a restriction on new properties to control their use for holiday purposes?

- Planing restrictions on my smallholding That make having a camping snd motorhome/canpervan site for visitors not allowed due to our lane. Our only access to our property An unadopted bridleway that no one seems to own or maintain (well we try but don't have the money to do it properly and without making any income from our property we never will And without something being done about the lane, our only access we are unlikely to get permission A tautology

- More availability of commercial space, possible opportunity for small scale mixed use development.
- Internet  speed is a problem. Starling might be faster?

1. Porkellis Moor and other similar areas within the parish are important plant areas and need preserving for the public good.
2. The village hall is an asset of significant importance to the community and should be protected
3. The common land around the old mining area could be expanded and rewarded, enabling nature recovery.
4. The old mining area here was the last in the parish to be worked and is now essential amenity space for common use, and an important area for nature recovery.
5. There is an old stone circle here and a nearby fogou, each of which is set in an historic natural landscape that is worthy of preserving for the public good.

6. Lovely field view by my house
7. Walks down to the river, woods and moor for natural history and access to nature
8. View from Wendron across lizard peninsula framed by Goonhilly satellites.
9. Porkellis lower moor
10. All of Porkellis
11. Too many new developments being attempted. There are thousands of new homes being built within a few miles there is just no need here
12. Porkellis Village Hall Important building for the area

Additional information provided:

- General Eco builds. Unique rural properties
- None - 10 responses
- Stone fronted/clad, as an attractive affordable imitation of older stone properties. An example is the block of 3 properties at The Laurels, The Square, Four Lanes
- none - 2 responses
- There is a lot of building in traditional materials that is worthy of preservation, which - as a by-product - could increase the demand for skilled artisan labour. Plenty of granite houses around the Star Inn in Porkellis, by way of example. English Heritage can advise on mechanisms to build such properties with net zero in mind.
- Nothing I admire
- Development at Trelill Farm, Trewwnnack currently appears to be being done sympathetically to historic structures and does not feel to change the character of the area, by stark contrast to the units on the opposite side of the road.
- I like housing where the old buildings have been restored and used. Rather than new ones built from scratch
- None...
- NONE. Who the hell are all the new houses for. Sort out the second homes and AirBnbs and there'd be more than enough housing for what is needed!

Public Amenities and Facilities questions

Q17 The Neighbourhood Plan could give some protection to important local amenities and facilities. Please select which you think these should be?

Answers: 20 | Comments: 0 | Respondents: 20

Neighbourhood Plans can enable communities to identify and protect 'Local Green Spaces' of particular importance to them if they are demonstrably special and hold a particular local significance, for example because of their beauty, historic significance, recreational value (including as a playing field), tranquillity or richness of its wildlife.

The map displays the Isles of Scilly, with a thick black line delineating the main island. Eleven red dots, numbered 1 through 11, are plotted to indicate the locations of shipwrecks from the 11th century. The dots are distributed across the island, with a concentration in the central and eastern regions. Key locations labeled on the map include Penmarth, Port Isaac, Trevear, and Trevenen Bal. Roads such as B3290, B3297, B3302, and A394 are also shown. A legend in the top right corner identifies the red dots as '11th-century shipwreck sites'.

1. Land around Wendron Cricket Club
2. Efforts should, in general, be made to purchase and rewild low-return farmland for the purposes of nature recovery, as and when they become available.
3. Porkellis Moor, and similar low-lying marshlands in the parish are worthy of preservation as important plant areas.
4. The village hall in Porkellis is exceptionally important to the local community and should be considered an asset of considerable community value, and protected as such.
5. The old mine at Poldark should be turned into a light industrial site, with office space in traditional materials to encourage enterprise within the Parish

6. The Star Inn is an amenity of considerable importance to local people and should be made an asset of community value.
7. the lake at st stithians including surrounding walking routes and areas
8. Porkellis Moore local green space for walking and recreation
9. Porkellis lower moor
10. ALL OF IT! THERE IS MORE THAN ENOUGH BUILDING GOING ON IN HELSTON, REDRUTH, TRURO. LEAVE THE COUNTRYSIDE ALONE!
11. Lovely village green that might become too much of a car park
12. Non reason stated
